Bottomore, 1992 Over forty years after it first appeared T H Marshall's seminal essay on citizenship and social class in postwar Britain has acquired the status of a classic His lucid analysis of the principal elements of citizenship namely the possession of civil political and social rights is as relevant today as it was when it first appeared It is reissued here with a new and complementary monograph by Tom Bottomore in which the meaning of citizenship is re-examined in very different historical circumstances In asking how far the prospects for class equality have been realised Bottomore continues the discussion in a context that encompasses the restoration of civil and political rights in Eastern Europe problems of welfare capitalism citizenship and the nation state and the broader issues of equality and democratic institutions

Citizenship, Nation-building and Identity in the EU Cherry James, 2018-12-17 With Brexit looming a major issue facing UK Higher Education is whether the UK will be able to stay in the Erasmus Programme This book sits at the intersection of three main interrelated themes EU citizenship the current state of the university in Europe and student mobility as they play out in the context of an EU funded programme established not least to promote European identity European consciousness and European citizenship Exploring through interviews with students from many countries this book weaves together the themes of citizenship creation as a device for building a nation and a polity the university as a public space in the era of the marketization of higher education and communicative interaction as the mechanism by which citizenship is created Ultimately it asks if the building bricks of national citizenship can be transposed to the transnational scale and assist in creating the transnational EU citizenship It finds surprisingly that far from encouraging and facilitating the communicative interaction on which the development of EU citizenship was postulated central features of the Erasmus Programme inadvertently work against this outcome This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU law and European and EU studies Citizenship Studies sociology and more broadly to higher education in general

The New Relationship between the United Kingdom and the European Union Emmanuel Guinchard, Carlo Panara, 2025-03-29 Brexit has reshuffled the cards of the relationship between the United Kingdom and the European Union It is a one in a lifetime event which ended nearly 50 years of EU Membership EU law as such no longer applies in the United Kingdom and British citizens and companies no longer benefit from its advantages Part of the previous regime has however been maintained at times with amendments through the series of treaties negotiated between the UK and the EU in 2019 and 2020 in particular the Trade and Cooperation Agreement of 2020 to which the 2023 Windsor Agreement can be added The end result is a legal regime which is perhaps even more complex than EU law itself This book aims to provide the reader with a clarification of this legal regime as well as provide context to it and suggestions to improve it All key topics are covered such as citizens of the EU in the UK and British citizens in the EU trade in goods and in services criminal justice public procurement Northern Ireland the UK overseas territories the dispute settlement security and defence international trade agreements of the UK post Brexit environmental protection European civil justice financial services education and research and the European offices of the UK local authorities and devolved administrations after Brexit All the chapters follow wherever possible the same triadic structure The first part looks at the regime prior to Brexit the second part analyses the current regime and the third part discusses ongoing and predictable trends The concluding chapter attempts to identify some themes likely to impact on the forthcoming preparation of the 2026 review
