networking has grown into a staple of modern society but its continued evolution is becoming increasingly detrimental to our lives. Shifts in communication and privacy are affecting us more than we realize or understand. Terms of Service crystalizes this current moment in technology and contemplates its implications: the identity validating pleasures and perils of online visibility; our newly adopted view of daily life through the lens of what is share worthy; and the surveillance state operated by social media platforms Facebook, Google, Twitter, and others to mine our personal data for advertising revenue. An invasion of our lives that is as pervasive as government spying. Jacob Silverman calls for social media users to take back ownership of their digital selves from the Silicon Valley corporations who claim to know what's best for them. Integrating politics, sociology, national security, pop culture, and technology, he reveals the surprising conformity at the heart of Internet culture, explaining how social media companies engineer their products to encourage shallow engagement and discourage dissent. Reflecting on the collapsed barriers between our private and public lives, Silverman brings into focus the inner conflict we feel when deciding what to share and what to like, and explains how we can take the steps we need to free ourselves from its grip.

Gary Vaynerchuk's personal trainers explain how you can enjoy your favorite foods without guilt while losing weight, getting stronger, and improving your health. Some experts say, "Don't eat carbs because insulin makes you fat." Other experts say, "Don't eat fat because fat makes you fat." Others say, "Don't eat protein because protein makes you fat." Some even say, "Don't eat fruit because sugar makes you fat." So the logical conclusion would be not to eat anything at all, except for the other experts who say that makes you fat because it's starvation mode. Who should you believe? Who is right? Who is an ignoramus? And who is just trying to make a quick buck? It's confusing and difficult to know who to trust, but by the end of this book, you'll realize you don't need to eliminate anything from your diet. You can enjoy all your favorite foods in moderation while losing fat and achieving your goals. The issue is the in moderation bit. That's not a fun or sexy sell. And most people are far less likely to spend their money on moderation when a half-naked Instagram influencer is advertising that you can lose 50 pounds in 24 hours while stuffing your face full of cake. That said, considering you've got this book in your hands, you must be tired of the lies and deception in fitness marketing and are ready to understand the truth. Let's dive in.
