The Non-Technical Founder Josh MacDonald, 2018-04-03 Everyone has an idea that they think is the next big thing. The problem is it's probably an app or software idea and most people probably don't know how to code and their record for managing programmers is little to none. Even if they do know how to code they're not quite sure how to get their first one thousand customers. The Non-Technical Founder walks readers through the stages of validating whether their next big thing is good, bringing the idea to life, and getting those first customers. Wikanda Promkhuntong, 2025-10-01 Film Authorship in Contemporary Transmedia Culture The Paratextual Lives of Asian Auteurs examines film authorship in the transmedia era whereby film directors have become public figures through a wide range of textual material and performative practices. The book draws on the notion of paratext and its related term palimpsest to bring forth the idea of self-reflexive authorship as a method of examining the mediated past, present, and afterlife of East Asian filmmakers. The first part of the book pays attention to materials surrounding film festivals, multi-platform distribution, and cinephile fan creative practices which have been created, rewritten, and shared to foster and problematize the reputations of selected filmmakers. The second part examines alternative modes of self-projections and creative productions that address the filmmakers' sense of selves and relations with the industry and the public. Across different chapters, discourses surrounding film authorship and East Asian cinema are revisited and expanded to highlight its multiple histories and possible futures.

Everything I Need I Get from You Kaitlyn Tiffany, 2022-06-14 One of The New York Times Book Review's 100 Notable Books of 2022. Named one of the best books of 2022 by The New Yorker, Pitchfork, Vanity Fair, and TIME. A New York Times Book Review Editors' Choice. On the internet, fandom can be a route toward cyberbullying a baby, or it can be a way of figuring some things out about yourself. Sometimes it can even forge a writer as funny and perceptive as Kaitlyn Tiffany. Amanda Hess, The New York Times. Wistful, winning, and unexpectedly funny. Katy Waldman, The New Yorker. A thrilling dive into the world of superfandom and the fangirls who shaped the social internet. In 2014, on the side of a Los Angeles freeway, a One Direction fan erected a shrine in the spot where a few hours earlier Harry Styles had vomited. It's interesting, for sure. Styles said later, adding a little niche, maybe. But what seemed niche to Styles was actually a signpost for an unfathomably large, hyper-connected alternate universe: stan culture. In Everything I Need I Get from You, Kaitlyn Tiffany, a staff writer at The Atlantic and a superfan herself, guides us through the online world of fans, stans, and boybands. Along the way, we meet girls who damage their lungs from screaming too loud, fans rallying together to manipulate chart numbers using complex digital subversion, and an underworld of inside jokes and shared memories surrounding band members' allergies, internet typos, and hairstyles. In the process, Tiffany makes a convincing and often moving argument that fangirls, in their ingenuity and collaboration, created the social internet we know today. Before most people were using the internet for anything, Tiffany writes, fans were using it for everything. With humor, empathy, and an

Adrienne Massanari tracks the flames of toxicity found in the far right and alt right movements as they increasingly take up oxygen in American and global society In this pathbreaking contribution to the fields of internet studies game studies and gender studies Massanari argues that Silicon Valley s emphasis on meritocracy and free speech absolutism has driven this rightward slide These ideologies have been coded into social media spaces that implicitly silence marginalized communities and subject them to rampant abuse by groups that have learned to game the ecology of platforms algorithms and attention economies While populist movements are not new phenomena such as QAnon parental rights activism and COVID denialism are uniquely of the internet with supporters demonstrating both technical acumen and an ability to use memes and play as a way of both building community and fomenting dissent Massanari explores the ways that the far right uses memetic humor and geek masculinity as tools both to create a sense of community within these leaderless groups and to obfuscate their intentions Using the lens of play and game studies as well as the concept of metagaming Gaming Democracy is a novel contribution to our understanding of online platforms and far right political activism
