Creating Value with Data Analytics in Marketing Peter C. Verhoef,Edwin Kooge,Natasha Walk,Jaap E. Wieringa,2021-11-07 This book is a refreshingly practical yet theoretically sound roadmap to leveraging data analytics and data science The vast amount of data generated about us and our world is useless without plans and strategies that are designed to cope with its size and complexity and which enable organizations to leverage the information to create value in marketing Creating Value with Data Analytics in Marketing provides a nuanced view of big data developments and data science arguing that big data is not a revolution but an evolution of the increasing availability of data that has been observed in recent times Building on the authors extensive academic and practical knowledge this book aims to provide managers and analysts with strategic directions and practical analytical solutions on how to create value from existing and new big data The second edition of this bestselling text has been fully updated in line with developments in the field and includes a selection of new international cases and examples exercises techniques and methodologies Tying data and analytics to specific goals and processes for implementation makes this essential reading for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students and specialists of data analytics marketing research marketing management and customer relationship management Online resources include chapter by chapter lecture slides and data sets and corresponding R code for selected chapters Algorithmic Marketing and EU Law on Unfair Commercial Practices Federico Galli,2022-08-30 Artificial Intelligence AI systems are increasingly being deployed by marketing entities in connection with consumers interactions Thanks to machine learning ML and cognitive computing technologies businesses can now analyse vast amounts of data on consumers generate new knowledge use it to optimize certain processes and undertake tasks that were previously impossible. Against this background this book analyses new algorithmic commercial practices, discusses their challenges for consumers and measures such developments against the current EU legislative framework on consumer protection. The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach building on empirical findings from AI applications in marketing and theoretical insights from marketing studies and combining them with normative analysis of privacy and consumer protection in the EU. The content is divided into three parts. The first part analyses the phenomenon of algorithmic marketing practices and reviews the main AI and AI related technologies used in marketing e.g. Big data, ML and NLP. The second part describes new commercial practices including the massive monitoring and profiling of consumers, the personalization of advertising and offers the exploitation of psychological and emotional insights and the use of human like interfaces to trigger emotional responses. The third part provides a comprehensive analysis of current EU consumer protection laws and policies in the field of commercial practices. It focuses on two main legal concepts, their shortcomings and potential refinements, vulnerability understood as the conceptual benchmark for protecting consumers from unfair algorithmic practices, manipulation, the substantive legal measure for drawing the line between fair and unfair practices.

All the News That's Fit to Click Caitlin Petre, 2024-02-27 Over the past fifteen years journalism has experienced a rapid proliferation of data about online reader behavior in the form of web metrics. These newsroom metrics influence which stories are written, how news is promoted and which journalists get hired and fired. Some argue that metrics help journalists better serve their audiences. Others worry that metrics are the contemporary equivalent of a stopwatch-wielding factory manager. In Desperate Measures, Caitlin Petre offers a rare behind the scenes look at how metrics are reshaping the work of journalism. Over a period of four years, Petre conducted a mix of in-depth interviews and ethnographic observation at three sites. The book first shows how metrics tools are designed and marketed via Petre's research at the prominent news analytics company Chartbeat. Petre then follows Chartbeat's tool into the newsrooms of two of the company's highest profile clients, Gawker Media and The New York Times. She finds that newsroom metrics are a powerful form of managerial surveillance and discipline. However, unlike the manager's stopwatch that preceded them, digital metrics are designed to gain the trust of wary journalists by providing a habit-forming user experience that mimics key features of addictive games. She details how the ambiguous nature of the data lead journalists to draw seemingly arbitrary boundaries around uses of audience metrics that are either legitimate or illegitimate. And she examines how metrics intersect with existing newsroom hierarchies. As performance analytics spread to virtually every professional field, Petre's findings speak to the future of expertise and labor relations in contexts far beyond journalism.
