Making Sense of Mass Education Gordon Tait, 2013 Making Sense of Mass Education provides a comprehensive analysis of the field of mass education. The book presents new assessment of traditional issues associated with education: class, race, gender, discrimination, and equity. It dispels myths and assumptions about the classroom. It examines the complex relationship between the media, popular culture, and schooling, and places the expectations surrounding the modern teacher within ethical, legal, and historical contexts. The book blurs some of the disciplinary boundaries within the field of education, drawing upon sociology, cultural studies, history, philosophy, ethics, and jurisprudence to provide stronger analyses. The book reframes the sociology of education as a complex mosaic of cultural practices, forces, and innovations. Engaging and contemporary, it is an invaluable resource for teacher education, students, and anyone interested in a better understanding of mass education.

Excellence and Equity in Literacy Education William Tunmer, J. Chapman, 2015-06-13. Literacy is arguably the most important goal of schooling, as to a large extent it determines young children's educational and life chances and is fundamental in achieving social justice. New Zealand's literacy education programme has long been regarded as one of the world's most successful approaches to teaching literacy skills to young children. Excellence and Equity in Literacy Education questions this widely held assumption. In the late 1990s, the New Zealand government developed a national literacy strategy aimed at reducing persistently large inequities in literacy achievement outcomes. The chapters in this edited volume present evidence indicating that the national literacy strategy has failed to examine the major factors responsible for the continuation of New Zealand's comparatively wide spread of scores in literacy achievement and describe the most effective strategies for reducing the literacy achievement gap and achieving excellence and equity in New Zealand literacy education. Reading Across International Boundaries Roger Openshaw, Janet Soler, 2007-05-08. This book explores debates about teaching reading set in social, cultural, and political contexts. It highlights historical and comparative dimensions, international influences, and challenges, preconceptions. The collection aims to broaden understanding and propose alternative visions for improving reading education. New Zealand Journal of Educational Studies, 2006.
