Discourses of Home and Homeland in Irish

Children's Fiction 1990-2012 Ciara Ní Bhroin,2021-05-22 In the context of changing constructs of home and of childhood since the mid twentieth century this book examines discourses of home and homeland in Irish children s fiction from 1990 to 2012 a time of dramatic change in Ireland spanning the rise and fall of the Celtic Tiger and of unprecedented growth in Irish children s literature Close readings of selected texts by five award winning authors are linked to social intellectual and political changes in the period covered and draw on postcolonial feminist cultural and children s literature theory highlighting the political and ideological dimensions of home and the value of children s literature as a lens through which to view culture and society as well as an imaginative space where young people can engage with complex ideas relevant to their lives and the world in which they live Examining the works of O R Melling Kate Thompson Eoin Colfer Siobhán Parkinson and Siobhan Dowd Ciara Ní Bhroin argues that Irish children's literature changed at this time from being a vehicle that largely promoted hegemonic ideologies of home in post independence Ireland to a site of resistance to complacent notions of home in Celtic Tiger Ireland

Indian Genre Fiction Bodhisattva Chattopadhyay, Aakriti Mandhwani, Anwesha Maity, 2018-07-06 This volume maps the breadth and domain of genre literature in India across seven languages Tamil Urdu Bangla Hindi Odia Marathi and English and nine genres for the first time. Over the last few decades detective crime fiction and especially science fiction fantasy have slowly made their way into university curricula and consideration by literary critics in India and the West. However there has been no substantial study of genre fiction in the Indian languages least of all from a comparative perspective. This volume with contributions from leading national and international scholars addresses this lacuna in critical scholarship and provides an overview of diverse genre fictions. Using methods from literary analysis book history and Indian aesthetic theories the volume throws light on the variety of contexts in which genre literature is read activated and used from political debates surrounding national and regional identities to caste and class conflicts. It shows that Indian genre fiction including pulp fiction comics and graphic novels transmutes across languages time periods in translation and through publication processes. While the book focuses on contemporary postcolonial genre literature production it also draws connections to individual centuries long literary traditions of genre literature in the Indian subcontinent Further it traces contested hierarchies within these languages as well as current trends in genre fiction criticism Lucid and comprehensive this book will be of great interest to academics students practitioners literary critics and historians in the fields of postcolonialism genre studies global genre fiction media and popular culture South Asian literature Indian literature detective fiction science fiction romance crime fiction horror mythology graphic novels comparative literature and South Asian studies It will also appeal to the informed general reader World Authors, 1995-2000 Mari Rich, Olivia J.
