Conceptualizing Qualitative Inquiry Mindwork For Fieldwork In Education And The Social Sciences:

Conceptualizing Qualitative Inquiry Thomas H. Schram, 2003 What to ask and how to ask it are the basic problems of qualitative research. This practical new book provides a means for first time researchers to address these fundamental concerns and move their ideas through the process of conceptualizing and proposing a field based qualitative study. Emphasizing the preliminary work the mindwork that should precede and inform any research project the author poses the questions a first time researcher would and examines the frustrations and anxieties he or she might experience. He does this first through an ongoing case study of a real student researcher in her first project and then by capturing teachable moments that focus on the how and why of researchers efforts. The result A framework within which readers can learn how to ask informed questions and uncover informative answers. KEY TOPICS Chapter topics cover engaging problem and purpose, establishing a perspective, constructing a conceptual context, forming research questions, deciding about traditions, getting into place for fieldwork, establishing an inquiry's integrity, and writing a proposal. For anyone who needs to conduct research.

The Routledge Doctoral Student's Companion Pat Thomson, Melanie Walker, 2010-04-07 This book addresses a set of interlocking and overlapping big questions that sit behind the plethora of doctoral advice texts and run through the practice of knowledge identity work.

Designing, Conducting, and Publishing Quality Research in Mathematics Education

Keith R. Leatham, 2019-09-12 The purpose of this book is to collect, organize, and disseminate collective wisdom with respect to designing, conducting, and publishing quality research in mathematics education. This wisdom will be gleaned from among those who over the past several decades have been instrumental in guiding the field in the pursuit of excellence in mathematics education research. Insightful editors, educative reviewers, prolific writers, and caring mentors. Each chapter is written to the novice researcher with the intent of aiding them in avoiding common pitfalls, navigating difficult intellectual terrain, and understanding that they are not alone in experiencing rejection, frustration, confusion, and doubt. This book differs from existing literature in the sense that it is written about the enterprise of designing, conducting, and publishing research in mathematics education as opposed to being reports of the results of such work. It also differs in the sense that it is written with the intent to mentor the rising generation as opposed to capture the state of the field as would happen in a handbook, for example. It is written for the express purpose of helping the field work collectively to aid in the often isolated enterprise of mentoring new researchers. The primary audience is a potentially wide one: graduate students, novice researchers, graduate faculty advisors, and mentors, or anyone seeking to improve their own abilities to design, conduct, and publish quality research in mathematics education.

Empowering Teachers for Equitable and Sustainable Education Maria Teresa

Tatto, 2024-04-16 This groundbreaking book uses a comprehensive study of a novel Master of Education program to showcase how teachers can be engaged in authoritative equity based research using comparative education theory, inquiry based pedagogy, and the UNESCO SDGs as powerful frameworks. By developing agency to advance culturally sustaining and humanizing practices it demonstrates how teachers can promote equity in their classrooms and communities The central premise of the program is that teachers must become comparative global and local action researchers to have agency in their practice and to become effective advocates for the cultural and learning needs of their students especially those in disadvantaged contexts or learning at the bottom of the pyramid By learning comparative framing and social science methods reviewing the literature to select verifiable educational research and developing and implementing a plan for action research this book offers new ideas for how teachers can effectively respond to recent UNESCO calls to reimagine and create promising futures locally By providing formative and summative evidence of culturally and socially transformative learning and showcasing how teacher educators can engage teachers in authoritative justice inquiry based research this book will appeal to scholars faculty and researchers of comparative education and teacher education and development Personal Passionate Participatory Inquiry Into Social Justice in Education Joann Phillion, 2008-11-03 This book features 14 social justice oriented research programs on life in schools families and communities It connects personal values with political and practical aspects focusing on equity equality and social justice It's aimed at educators researchers and policymakers advocating for marginalized groups

Beating the Odds: Pedagogy, Praxis and the Life-World of Four African American Men Dr. James Oliver Richardson Jr., 2013-03-20 The purpose of my qualitative research is to reveal how four African American men overcame inferior education and Jim Crow laws In the early twentieth century the social and economic conditions of African American men were appalling yet they refused to accept the notion of inferior beings and second class citizenship Phenomenological interviews were conducted The major conclusions that evolved from the data were that family and church were significantly important to the participants This is a study about four African American mens pedagogy praxis and their quest for discovery self realization and high expectations My inquiry is also about their struggles dreams failures and disillusionment Adventure Education as Cultural-Historical Activity Jayson Owen Seaman, 2006-04-17 The present study aims to illuminate the way participant learning in adventure experiences intersects with broader social cultural and institutional contexts and was guided by the following questions How is participant experience constructed in a facilitated small group adventure setting How is the construction of the adventure experience related to the intentions and orchestrations of the trainer How is the construction of the adventure experience related to the institutional and social context in which it occurs This study used grounded theory methodology Strauss Leontiev 1977 Vygotsky 1978 Activity as an analytic device facilitates the mapping of historical social and cultural influences on local action while grounded theory helps maintain close attention to local phenomena Aside from making methodological advances I develop several major concepts First I identify the object of adventure education as the morally improved and socially interdependent subject It is this object that defines and establishes the conditions toward which the activity is oriented and must be understood Second Participation frameworks position the subjects as interested actors who negotiate and align with one another through the course of different exercises As an analytic device participation frameworks help identify the way subjects expect the workshop to conform with their goals and act on the basis of their expectations Third collaborative ideation is the process through which the object of adventure education is realized There are two sub parts to collaborative ideation vertically mediated action or the ways participants encounter speech kinesthetic poses and physical instruments are orchestrated by the trainer for particular effect and horizontally mediated action or the ways participants become resources for each other's learning These factors reflect a complex process of interaction in which participants experience contradictions between the actions required for involvement in the adventure and the social expectations they have for situations    Environmental Leadership Deborah Rigling Gallagher, 2012-09-19 This reference handbook tackles issues relevant to leadership in the realm of the environment and sustainability

Qualitative Research for the Information Professional G. E. Gorman, Peter Robert Clayton, Sydney J. Shep, Adela Clayton, 2005 This established text is the only introduction to qualitative research methodologies in the field of library and information management Its extensive coverage encompasses all aspects of qualitative research work from conception to completion and all types of study in a variety of settings from multi site projects to data organization The book features many case studies and examples and offers a comprehensive manual of practice designed for LIS professionals This new edition has been thoroughly revised and includes three new chapters It has been updated to take account of the substantial growth in the amount and quality of web based information relevant to qualitative research methods and practice and the many developments in software applications and resources The authors have identified a clear need for a new chapter on the evaluation of existing research as a gateway into new research for information professionals The final chapter Human Resources In Knowledge Management takes the form of a model case study and is an ideal qualitative investigation in an information setting It exemplifies many of the approaches to qualitative research discussed in earlier chapters model case study and is an ideal qualitative investigation in an information setting It exemplifies many of the approaches to qualitative research discussed in earlier chapters model case study and is an ideal qualitative investigation in an information setting It exemplifies many of the approaches to qualitative research discussed in earlier chapters model case study and is an ideal qualitative investigation in an information setting It exemplifies many of the approaches to qualitative research discussed in earlier chapters Readership Directed primarily at the beginner researcher this book also offers a practical refresher in this important area for the more experienced researcher It is a useful tool for all practitioners and researchers in information organizations whether libraries archives knowledge management centres record management centres or any other type of information service provider
