

Chapter 12: Statistical Final Exam Review - ADDITIONAL Q&A

Before I get to the normal distributions section, this is what I recommend to study for the 2 questions that we have you prepare for your final exam:

Regression and Correlation: I want to make my notes and formulas as brief as possible about them. I want to make sure the final questions have your major points covered like last year. I would suggest all relevant information is straightforward from your previous work with them. I would suggest you do both your regression and correlation problems. Other students have had the regression problems and not the correlation. I like both the regression and correlation. I like that I get the correlation part. So both are good. I want to make sure you are comfortable. If you don't have time, you can skip the correlation and skip the problems. After you do all right this year, next year.

So please, remember to do all relevant questions for the regression and correlation and to include them.
