Online Catholic Communities Marta Kołodziejska, 2018-04-19 The Catholic Church has been moving into a new phase one where its congregation can choose to meet and practice elements of their own version of their faith on online forums This new form of congregating allows for an individualised faith to manifest itself outside of the usual church authority structures Online Catholic Communities provides insight into how religious and non religious internet forum users interact and form groups during interactions it also discusses the transformation of religious authority and its emanations in these digital contexts Using the top three online forums used by Polish Catholics as a case study this project explores the formation of these online communities It then looks at the alternative authority structures that emerge online and how these lead to an individualised form of religious engagement that can develop independently of mainstream doctrine Through highlighting how religious discourse in Poland is appropriated and creatively modified by users in fulfilling their own spiritual needs this work reveals the constant interplay between online and offline religious contexts This monograph includes cutting edge research on online expressions of religious community authority and individualisation and as such will be of keen interest to scholars of religious studies and the sociology of religion as well as communication studies Breaking Free of the Web

Young Adult Catholics Dean R. Hoge, 2001 Leaders of the American Catholic community want to and need to reach out to young adults But effective ministry to young adults depends on an understanding of the attitudes and the needs of the current generation of Catholics in their 20s and 30s This is why Dean Hoge William Dinges Mary Johnson and Juan Gonzales began their study of young adult Catholics How do they actually live their Catholicism Are they alienated from the church Are they cynical about the church's moral teachings Do they take the pope's statements seriously Do they attend Mass Have significant numbers left for other churches Do they want Catholic education for their children Seeking answers to these and other questions the authors conducted a national survey in 1997 supplemented by a telephone survey and then by personal interviews with over 800 men and women across the country The interviews put a human face on the information provided and they form a compelling part of this timely narrative Of special interest is the focus on Latino Catholics The authors underscore observations that include the strength and tenacity of Catholic identity in spite of many challenges the high level of personal decision making among those interviewed and surveyed and the readiness of young Catholics for institutional reforms
