My Vancouver Dance History Peter Dickinson, 2020-08-20 In the past decade Vancouver dance has received tremendous acclaim nationally and internationally as witnessed by the success of choreographer Crystal Pite and a rejuvenated Ballet BC But this is only part of a vibrant and diverse story of contemporary movement practices in the city In My Vancouver Dance History Peter Dickinson crafts an embodied narrative that focuses on his critical and creative collaborations with nine Vancouver based dance artists and companies Mixing interview excerpts with fieldwork descriptions of studio research and performance analysis Dickinson draws on ten years of close observation to delve into the individual histories of select members of this community while also relating the cumulative story of Vancouver dance production and performance as it has unfolded in the past decade The voices of other invested participants interpolate this rich history and chapters are interspersed with a series of movement intervals that reflect key moments in Dickinson's history as a spectator scholar and collaborator In innovative ways Dickinson suggests that when we pay attention to the larger social topography of dance practice the sites that give rise to it the labour that goes into it and the professional friendships it engenders we can properly understand dance's contributions to civic life

Fashion in theory Marco Pecorari, 2025-10-28 For Spring Summer 2020 Gucci showed a collection questioning identity politics and capitalism Rather than the usual explanation of the material shapes or inspirations behind the collection the press release handed out at the show quoted the philosopher Michel Foucault and questioned the very nature of fashion itself Gucci's press release reflects the popularization of critical theory in public discourse and fashion in particular Philosophers activists and academics are increasingly recruited to collaborate with luxury brands and main stream fashion brands have begun to adopt a discourse about politics and critical thinking using in their communication concepts such as resistance gender fluidity national identity or cultural heritage without accompanying these discourses with any form of political engagement or activism Based on this intellectualization of the fashion industry and the recent proliferation of critical theory in fashion education this book stresses the importance of rethinking the relationship between fashion and theory Drawing together eleven chapters and four conversations by and with philosophers cultural theorists historians anthropologists activists performers and designers the book investigates both the theorization of fashion and the ways in which fashion offers a useful landscape in understanding the current state of critical theory today Romanian Contemporary Art 2010-2020
