Contesting Caprivi Contesting Caprivi:

Contesting Caprivi Bennett Kangumu, 2011 The author traces the politics of the people in Caprivi since 19th century. Neglected by Germany and South African colonial administrations its inhabitants were often pushed towards neighbouring territories though not being an integral part of them. Inlands Robert S. G. Fletcher, Alec Zuercher Reichardt, 2024-12-31 Conventional narratives of empires and globalization focus on oceans and coasts supposing that global connections are seaborne and that historical change proceeds inward from port cities into continental expanses. This book offers a new perspective examining key inland areas around the world to show how interior regions have shaped global history. Inlands brings together an interdisciplinary group of experts to explore the modern histories of inland regions across North and South America, Africa, Eurasia and Australasia from the American heartland to the Yangtze valley, the Great Dismal Swamp to the Arabian Desert. Together they argue that interior regions provide a fresh vantage point from which to rethink the history of global connection and disconnection. Each chapter reconsiders national, regional or imperial histories from an inland perspective demonstrating how such places have spurred global change. Contributors reveal the critical role inlands and their Indigenous inhabitants have played in the development, projection and contestation of state power showing how some interiors became essential to empire even as others developed in resistance to it. By examining the struggle to integrate inland regions into wider networks of exchange this book also sheds light on the unevenness and the limits of contemporary globalization. A new global history of interior spaces Inlands presents a bold challenge to dominant understandings of the making of today's connected world. National Liberation in Post-Colonial Southern Africa Christian A. Williams, 2015-10-08 Williams traces the South West Africa People's Organization of Namibia across three decades in exile in Tanzania, Zambia and Angola. Re-Viewing Resistance in Namibian History Jeremy Silvester, 2015-07-13 Re-Viewing Resistance in Namibian History brings together the work of experienced academics and a new wave of young Namibian historians, architects of the past. They are working on a range of public history and heritage projects from late nineteenth century resistance to the use of songs from the role of gender in SWAPO's camps to memorialisation and from international solidarity to aspects of the history of Kavango and Caprivi. In a culturally and politically diverse democracy such as Namibia there are bound to be different perspectives on the past and history will be as plural as the history tellers. The chapters in this book reflect this diversity and combine to create a remarkable collection of divergent voices providing alternative perspectives on the past. The book writes forgotten people into history, provides a reading of the past that reflects the tensions and competing identities that pervaded the struggle and deals with heritage that hurts. Contesting Borders Kristin Leigh Kopp, 2001 Contesting the Frontiers Ullamaija Kivikuru, 2001 Gennem indledende refleksioner omkring medier, kultur og etnicitet efterfulgt af case studier analyseres og identificeres nogle af de vilkår hvorpå borgere i Danmark, Norge og Sverige forhandler skaber og konstituerer deres historie, deres socialorden og deres kulturelle praksis. Contesting the German Empire

1871 - 1918 Matthew Jefferies, 2008 Jefferies offers a historiographical overview of more than a century of works on the German empire presenting varying perspectives on gender cultural history foreign relations colonialism and war He also explores the controversial historical reputations of Bismark and Kaiser Wilhelm II
