No Free Lunch William A. Dembski,2007-02 Darwin s greatest accomplishment was to show how life might be explained as the result of natural selection But does Darwin s theory mean that life was unintended William A Dembski argues that it does not In this book Dembski extends his theory of intelligent design Building on his earlier work in The Design Inference Cambridge 1998 he defends that life must be the product of intelligent design Critics of Dembski s work have argued that evolutionary algorithms show that life can be explained apart from intelligence But by employing powerful recent results from the No Free Lunch Theory Dembski addresses and decisively refutes such claims As the leading proponent of intelligent design Dembski reveals a designer capable of originating the complexity and specificity found throughout the cosmos Scientists and theologians alike will find this book of interest as it brings the question of creation firmly into the realm of scientific debate

Leikin,Rina Zazkis,2010-04-10 The idea of teachers Learning through Teaching LTT when presented to a na ve bystander appears as an oxymoron Are we not supposed to learn before we teach After all under the usual circumstances learning is the task for those who are being taught not of those who teach However this book is about the learning of teachers not the learning of students It is an ancient wisdom that the best way to truly learn something is to teach it to others Nevertheless once a teacher has taught a particular topic or concept and consequently truly learned it what is left for this teacher to learn As evident in this book the experience of teaching presents teachers with an exciting opp tunity for learning throughout their entire career This means acquiring a better understanding of what is being taught and moreover learning a variety of new things What these new things may be and how they are learned is addressed in the collection of chapters in this volume LTT is acknowledged by multiple researchers and mathematics educators In the first chapter Leikin and Zazkis review literature that recognizes this phenomenon and stress that only a small number of studies attend systematically to LTT processes The authors in this volume purposefully analyze the teaching of mathematics as a source for teachers own learning Relativity Moshe Carmeli,2008 This book describes Carmeli's cosmological general and special relativity theory along with Einstein's general and special relativity These theories are discussed in the context of Moshe Carmeli's original research in which velocity is introduced as an additional independent dimension Four and five dimensional spaces are considered and the five dimensional braneworld theory is presented The Tully Fisher law is obtained directly from the theory and thus it is found that there is no necessity to assume the existence of dark matter in the halo of galaxies nor in galaxy clusters The book gives the derivation of the Lorentz transformation which is used in both Einstein's special relativity and Carmeli's cosmological special relativity theory The text also provides the mathematical theory of curved space time geometry which is necessary to describe both Einstein's general relativity and Carmeli's cosmological general relativity A comparison between the dynamical and kinematic aspects of the expansion of the universe is made Comparison is also made between the Friedmann Robertson Walker theory and the Carmeli theory And neither is it necessary to assume the existence of dark matter to correctly describe the expansion of the cosmos New York Math: Math A ,2000 Measurement & Evaluation James S.
