Comparing And Evaluating The Scriptures Comparing And Evaluating The Scriptures:

Scripture in the Theologies of W. Pannenberg and D.G. Bloesch Frank M. Hasel, 2004-03-01 Scripture has always played an important role in Christian theology. This study provides an issue oriented overview of the concepts of Scripture in Protestant theology from the 16th century Reformation onward. It then sets forth the concepts of Scripture in the theologies of two contemporary systematic theologians W. Pannenberg and D.G. Bloesch. It analyzes, compares and evaluates the theological and anthropological presuppositions that have influenced their concept of Scripture. Despite fundamentally different starting points and other significant distinctions, Pannenberg and Bloesch reveal surprising similarities. This seems to suggest that for both the concept of Scripture is determined ultimately by presuppositions that are derived and shaped extra scripturam.

Comparing and Evaluating the Scriptures Paul F. Fink, 2008-02 No one is likely to dispute that religions profoundly affect our lives in innumerable ways. Disagreements emerge however when we attempt to evaluate those effects and when we attempt to determine religion's proper place in our lives in our society and in our troubled world. As we all know, responsible judgments in regard to these complicated matters though fundamentally important are difficult to formulate and defend. In fact, even purely personal decisions about religion are not always easy. So during normal times many of us choose to live our lives without ever seriously considering some of religion's more complex issues. This limited outlook however is beginning to seem less appropriate given today's world some aspects of religion's role in current events truly are disturbing. How should we respond to this situation? Wouldn't it be worthwhile for everyone to think through our religious traditions one more time from the beginning? Isn't it possible to resolve Practically Identical Bibles: The Geneva Bible, the KJV, and the NKJV? Rick Norris, 2017-09-03 This thought-provoking book discusses a scripturally based view of English Bible translations such as the Geneva Bible, the KJV and the NKJV. It considers and responds to several KJV only allegations against the NKJV with many facts from the Geneva Bible, the KJV and the NKJV. It demonstrates that a consistent application of KJV only allegations would harm the KJV itself. Problems with inconsistent human KJV only reasoning are properly exposed.

Angel on My Handlebars Patricia Starr, 2009 Patricia Starr a woman of seemingly indefatigable energy and enthusiasm for life wanted to give something back to her community and pursue a dream to bicycle across America. In 2004 at age 67 she accomplished both by pedaling to raise $22,000 to establish a perpetual $1,000 yearly music scholarship at Santa Barbara City College. The story of her arduous 50 day 3,622 mile odyssey across America is told in a compelling way that is an inspiration to all. She proves that chronologic age can be overcome by enthusiasm, determination and perspiration. She describes the interesting people she met along the way and the trials and tribulations she endured while crossing four major mountain ranges and the long, lonely, barren stretches of highway in America's vast Midwest. Dusty detours sharing the interstate with 18-wheelers and a bear scare enhance the daily excitement of this unforgettable journey by an incredible senior citizen. Whatever your age enjoy the adventures. And lastly it's a love story about a husband willing to do anything to help his wife.
