Capacity Development In Practice:

Capacity Development in Practice Jan Ubels, Alan Fowler, 2010 The international development community invests billions of dollars to improve organisational capacity. But real life practice is poorly understood and undervalued as a distinct professional domain. Written by practitioners this innovative publication is designed to make capacity development more professional and increasingly effective in achieving development goals. Practical illustrations draw on experiences from the civic government and private sectors. A central theme is to understand capacity as more than something internal to organisations. This book shows how capacity also stems from connections between different types of actor and the levels in society at which they operate. The content is crafted for a broad audience of practitioners in capacity development consultants managers front line workers trainers facilitators leaders advisors programme staff activists and funding agencies.

Published with SNV    Creative Capacity Development Jenny Pearson, 2011 The development community seems constantly and restlessly in search of a singular approach that will solve poverty unveiling new buzzwords every few years only to toss them aside. Author Jenny Pearson argues that the fundamental flaw with this system is that each new approach fails to break out of the underlying technocratic and specialized paradigm in development work. As Director of Cambodia's leading capacity building NGO VBNK Pearson explains how creative risks and an innovative spirit can revive development work especially in post conflict settings. Creative Capacity Development provides an unflinching appraisal of the author's own assumptions and setbacks as she established VBNK and explains how a dynamic and open learning process allowed the organization to move beyond them. Pearson's account drawn with insights from cultural studies mental health practice and the arts will guide other practitioners in broadening their own understanding of capacity building. The book reveals that development work far from requiring a singular solution is and should be a never ending process    Integrated Water Resources Management: Concept, Research and Implementation Dietrich Borchardt, Janos J. Bogardi, Ralf B. Ibisch, 2016-04-19 This book reviews the concept contemporary research efforts and the implementation of Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM). The IWRM concept was established as an international guiding water management paradigm.

in the early 1990ies and has become a vital approach to solving the problems associated with the topic of water The book summarizes fourteen comprehensive IWRM research projects with worldwide coverage and analyses their motivations settings approaches and implementation of results Aiming to be an up to date interdisciplinary scientific reference this book provides a comprehensive theoretical and empirical analysis of contemporary IWRM research examples of science based implementations and a synthesis of the lessons learnt It concludes with some major future challenges the solving of which will further strengthen the IWRM concept

Critical Capacity Development Farhad Analoui,Joseph Kwadwo

Danquah,2017-01-23 This book contributes to our understanding of a neglected and poorly understood concept within the development field capacity development in the context of human and organisational sustainable development Relating capacity development to other perspectives in development thinking and practice and giving an account of the concept s genesis the book introduces readers to recent empirical research initiatives that help to elucidate the concepts of capacity capacity development and capacity management While capacity development initiatives and programmes have been used by most international and national agencies over the course of the last five decades the term means different things to different people and especially to different major players in the international community This weakens its effectiveness This book therefore strives first of all to set ground rules that can be utilised by international aid providers such as UNDP OECD World Bank and CIDA and practitioners alike

The Challenge of Capacity Development ,2006

The United Nations as a Knowledge System Nanette Svenson,2015-10-16 This book seeks to explore how the UN has generated warehoused disseminated structured packaged expanded transferred and leveraged its vast resources of accumulated information and experience throughout the decades and particularly since the start of the 21st century with the introduction of more connective information and communications technology It examines the overarching objectives that have guided such activity and divides UN knowledge management into three distinct but often overlapping and intertwining categories knowledge for social and organizational learning knowledge for norm setting and knowledge for creation of products and services Svenson brings together these multiple aspects of UN knowledge management to present a holistic view of how the organization utilizes its global intelligence to educate advocate and serve member countries development Instead of looking at the UN as an international bureaucracy or as a peacekeeping policymaking humanitarian or development entity this work studies the UN as a generator and purveyor of information learning and experience in all of these areas This book will be key reading for all students and scholars of international organizations Dispossession and the Environment Paige West,2016-10-11 When journalists developers surf tourists and conservation NGOs cast Papua New Guineans as living in a prior nature and prior culture they devalue their knowledge and practice facilitating their dispossession Paige West's searing study reveals how a range of actors produce and reinforce inequalities in today's globalized world She shows how racist rhetorics of representation underlie all uneven patterns of development and seeks a more robust understanding of the ideological work that capital requires for constant regeneration Building Peace from Within Maphosa, Sylvester B.,DeLuca, Laura,Keasley,2014-02-07

This book seeks to examine how successful models of building peace from within in the African context function It draws emerging lessons to provide critical recommendations on policy practice and academia our primary audience While there are numerous examples of failures of conflict resolution in Africa shown by intractable conflict axes less attention is paid to successes While acknowledging the challenges that exist this edited volume provides positive examples of building peace from within in fragile contexts through many forms of initiatives and actions at different levels community based through individual and or collective local peace initiatives government through ministries and or departments and regional through external and or multilateral infrastructure for peace As a guiding principle the notion of building peace from within draws from the idea of community regeneration which describes voluntary and peaceful activities of grassroots actors that reflect their broader interests of building peaceful communities and existence Capacity development in environment OECD.,1997 Capacity-building Deborah Eade,1997 This book considers specific and practical ways in which NGO's can contribute to enabling people to build on the capacities they already possess It reviews the types of social organisation with which NGO's might consider working and the provision of training in a variety of relevant skills and activities

Education in Cambodia Vincent McNamara,Martin Hayden,2022-05-14 This book is the most comprehensive account yet published about the education system in Cambodia It covers all system levels and draws upon the knowledge and insights of a wide range of leading Cambodian and foreign scholars The book focuses on how the system has developed and is making progress Significant achievements over the past two decades are evident but many problems remain including the poor quality of teaching research and institutional management Under funding is an ongoing obstacle but so too is a bureaucratic culture of resistance to change a history of weak governance and an anti reform sentiment deriving from a teacher centred and exam driven curriculum Achieving international standards must now be the system's highest priority To this end the system must rid itself of conservatism complacency and manipulation by parochial vested interests Practice Change Capacity Development Booklet ,2007 Training and Development Yearbook

Carolyn Nilson,Carolyn Nilson, PH.D PhD, Ed.D,1999 One stop shopping for all the latest information literature and resources needed by trainers The Yearbook features the best full length articles from leading publications plus abstracts of hundreds of other articles The Trainers Almanac is a unique yellow pages guide to professional organizations conferences sources software reference books journals and newsletters Capacity Development for Education for All Faccini, Benedict,Salzano, Carmela,2011-12-31

Capacity Development for Good Governance Anita Ernstorfer,Albrecht Stockmayer,2009 If there is one topic in development cooperation that transcends sectors and issues it is developing capacity for governance Good governance is a focal point in many projects and programs of the German Technical Cooperation It is also a necessary element in every international declaration on development cooperation In order to promote good governance successfully i.e to achieve actual progress capacity development is essential This book deals with governance issues in the water and health sectors and in relation to forests land public finance reforms and civil society Further it includes the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development's publication The Challenge of Capacity Development Working Towards Good Practice Experts in German development cooperation present their experiences by offering detailed insights into their work They analyze the influence and added value of capacity development in development cooperation and first and foremost demonstrate the importance of capacity development for fostering good governance
