Plantation Worlds Maan Barua,2024-07-26 In Plantation Worlds Maan Barua interrogates debates on planetary transformations through the histories and ecologies of plantations Drawing on long term research spanning fifteen years Barua presents a unique ethnography attentive to the lives of both people and elephants amid tea plantations in the Indian state of Assam In the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries nearly three million people were brought in to Assam s plantations to work under conditions of indenture Plantations dramatically altered the region s landscape plundered resources and created fraught worlds for elephants and people Their extractive logics and colonial legacies prevail as durations forging the ambit of infrastructures labor habitability and conservation in the present And yet as the perspectives of the Adivasi plantation worker community and lifeworlds of elephants show possibilities for enacting a decolonial imaginary of landscape remain present amid immiseration From the margins of the Global South Barua offers an alternative grammar for articulating environmental change In so doing he prompts a rethinking of multispecies ecologies and how they are structured by colonialism and race

Landscape and Sustainable Development Professor Peter Howard,Yves Luginbühl,Daniel Terrasson,2015-04-28 Previously published in French by Editions Quae this volume presents findings of a major research programme into landscape and sustainable development While led by French scholars the research team and geographical scope of the project was international collaborative and comparative Using case studies from across Europe the interdisciplinary team of contributors discuss the relationship between landscape as defined by the European Landscape Convention and the concept of sustainable development This English edition has a new introduction written by Yves Luginbühl and Peter Howard Some of the topics covered such as wind farm landscapes will be familiar to English language readers but others are less so such as footpath economics non woodland trees inter generational equity and the insistence on the necessary developments in governance
