Calgary Police Study Guide:

City of Order Michael Boudreau, 2012-05-15 Interwar Halifax was a city in flux a place where citizens debated adopting new ideas and technologies but agreed on one thing modernity was corrupting public morality and unleashing untold social problems on their fair city In this context citizens policy makers and officials turned to the criminal justice system to create a bulwark against further social dislocation Officials modernized the city s machinery of order courts prisons and the police force and placed greater emphasis on crime control while residents supported tough on crime measures and attached little importance to rehabilitation These initiatives gave birth to a constructed vision of a criminal class that singled out ethnic minorities working class men and female and juvenile offenders as problem figures in the eternal quest for order Michael Boudreau s in depth study of crime and culture in interwar Halifax the first of its kind shows how tough on crime measures can compound rather than resolve social inequalities and dislocations

Resources in Education, 1993 Policing Across Organisational Boundaries Benoît Dupont, Chad Whelan, Peter K. Manning, 2020-06-04 This book promotes new theoretical frameworks and research questions that seek to advance knowledge of policing across internal and external organisational boundaries specifically at the structural level of analysis. It addresses police theory, policy and practice and also provides new directions for future research on intra and inter organisational policing. Analysing boundaries is of increasing global importance for policing policy and practice. Boundaries reflect the division of labour inherent to complex organisations and their specialist units. In order to operate effectively, however, these boundaries must be crossed and strong and reliable linkages must be built. Intra organisationally, it is vital to understand how specialist units form and function and interact with other units. Inter organisationally, it is fundamental to recognise the place of boundaries in contexts such as international police cooperation.
