Naveh,1992-06 A provocative treatment of political martyrdom in the United States a well crafted thought provoking book The Lincoln Herald In the U S dead politicians and controversial reformers have frequently been called martyrs to a cause But achieving martyrdom is more elusive than simply being jailed murdered or rejected in fighting for what one believes This is the thrust of Naveh s argument which traces the martyr motif in American political culture since the 1830s Choice Drawing upon eulogies and obituaries sermons and biographies poems and public memorials Crown of Thorns is most valuable in providing a taxonomy that helps suggest why some public figures sink into oblivion while a very few others belong to the ages The Journal of American History Naveh makes admirable use of a wide range of primary sources particularly those drawn from popular rather than elite culture well written Crown of Thorns should be of some interest to all who are interested in the dynamics of cultural inertia and social change in the United States History    Historical Outlook ,1921    Fundamental Questions in Cross-Cultural Psychology Fons J. Breugelmans,2011-03-17 Cross cultural psychology has come of age as a scientific discipline but how has it developed The field has moved from exploratory studies in which researchers were mainly interested in finding differences in psychological functioning without any clear expectation to detailed hypothesis tests of theories of cross cultural differences This book takes stock of the large number of empirical studies conducted over the last decades to evaluate the current state of the field Specialists from various domains provide an overview of their area linking it to the fundamental questions of cross cultural psychology such as how individuals and their cultures are linked how the link evolves during development and what the methodological challenges of the field are This book will appeal to academic researchers and post graduates interested in cross cultural research    The Dialectics of Praxis and Theoria in African Philosophy B. Bin-Kapela,2011-09-26 This book is a clarion call for African renaissance informed by African spirituality It develops the vision that Africans can be the same in the process of change Africans have to coincide with their ways of perceiving values and to retrieve their identity wiped out by regrettable historical events Even in this involvement of revalorisation of their stifled ways Africans have to be aware of the fact that history has evolved and new human environments are taking place Any attempt to recover African personality involves a triple necessity First to remember the past second to analyse critically what Africans have inherited from their past and lastly to project new ways and means for a genuine renaissance free from alienation and exploitation Bin Kapela sees in Cultural hermeneutics an appropriate philosophical method to achieve this end of recognising and projecting African spirituality as a universal value The History and Prospects of the Social Sciences Harry Elmer Barnes,1925 A History of Kansas Anna Estelle Arnold,1914
